

Graphic Design Paid Internship Description:

We're in a stage at The River where we want to have our design match how great our brand is. That's where we would love your help. As a paid intern, you'd be helping The River's Digital Department by designing t-shirts, posters, flyers, digital graphics, print ads, and more.

The ideal candidate must be creative, as well as timely. We're looking for someone who is ready to gain experience in the professional world and have some fun at the same time.

Responsibilities:

- In-Office:
 - Creating a series of t-shirt designs that match The River brand
 - Designing graphics for River promotions and anything that accompanies them (flyers, posters, etc.)
 - Designing inspirational and encouraging lock screens for phones and some other printables for listeners to download
 - Taking our top 5 blogs and creating a magazine-style PDF that listeners can read online or print out to keep
 - Working on creating a series of holiday graphics (Facebook cover photos, website sliders, and other social graphics)
- Out-Of-Office
 - Potential for editing and designing off-site so long as in-office hours are also being met.

Requirements:

- Enrolled in a college or university
- A portfolio of past work
- At least 1 year of experience with Adobe Photoshop and Illustrator
- Copywriting / creative writing skills would be a major benefit but are not required
- Character consistent with The River's Core Values:
 - Have Fun
 - Be Real
 - Build Relationships
 - Communicate
 - Be Excellent
- 15 work hours every week, with a minimum of 8 hours in-office/on-site (M-F, between 9am-5pm) and 7 flex hours (which can be spent either in-office or out-of-office based on your schedule)

Benefits of the Internship:

- Experience that will help you navigate the professional world
- A team that's excited to teach new people and at the same time learn from them
- Working alongside the station Social Media Director and Digital Director to learn about client expectations and how to work with a team
- Having a voice in a culture that promotes learning from each other and growing in unity
- Learning how to balance client expectations without compromising the quality of your content
- Flexible hours that allow you to work outside of the office (if that's desirable to you)

To apply, please email your resume and portfolio to Anne at anesser@riverradio.com. Deadline: April 20, 2018.
